Prefatory.

Situated on an island in the sea, but in close touch with a rich and prosperous country comprising one quarter of the United States, Galveston enjoys the unique distinction of being both a pleasure resort and a city of great commercial importance. Since the publication of the last directory Galveston has displayed many new indications of prosperity all pointing to future greatness, and today the city is more firmly grounded, and recognized more than ever before as a great factor in the development of the millions of square miles of country lying west of the Mississippi river. In the development of the port of Galveston by the Federal government, the great west has been furnished an outlet for its surplus products which eliminates the long rail haul and thus makes a deep cut in former freight rates. In this alone the port of Galveston has been worth millions upon millions of dollars to the people of the west for every dollar expended in building jetties, deepening the channel and providing protective works. In this great work Galveston citizens have done their part nobly. Besides spending dollars for dollar with the government in furnishing facilities for handling the great commerce of the West, they have builded a sea wall, one of the wonders of the world, and are filling the city to the level of the wall in order that their homes may be protected and the great sea port, established at the expense of more than $10,000,000 expended by the Federal government and as much more by private citizens and corporations, might live. All this is a matter which has been published time and time again in the leading journals and magazines of the United States and Europe, and it is not the object of the publishers of this directory to repeat the details. Suffice to say, the work of placing the city beyond the reach of waves is being rapidly pushed to completion and at the present time, is far enough advanced to make the protection an absolute certainty. The Spartan courage and the undying love the citizens have displayed for Galveston is now a matter of history, which will not be forgotten for many generations.

In presenting this the sixteenth edition of the Galveston directory to the citizens, the publishers feel called upon to say a few words regarding the material prosperity of the city and of the accomplishments of the citizens in the way of building up and developing its natural resources. In doing this we can not refrain from commenting upon the nature of the city government, which, in a large measure is responsible for the renewed activity along commercial lines. To the commission government and the honest administration of public affairs is due the credit for the restoration of confidence in the city among the citizens themselves, who, having faith in a just, equitable and an honest expenditure of the money thus collected, have come forward with their back taxes and have gone ahead with improvements on their own individual property without fear of what the future may have in store. Taxes have been paid promptly and the city has not only wiped out all of the floating debts and retired thousands of dollars in bonds, but at the same time have laid many blocks of brick paving, built miles of shell road, extended the water and sewer systems, all without additional bonds, and in the meantime city bonds have risen from 60 cents on the dollar to above par in the markets of the United States. A government which can accomplish these things in the short space of six years after bankruptcy and an overwhelming disaster, is a government deserving of the praise and confidence which has been so generously bestowed.

MUNICIPAL IMPROVEMENTS.

During the year which closed September 1, 1925 the city expended in permanent improvements $181,525 divided as follows:

Paving and surfacing.....	$55,209
Drainage.....	21,558
Sewer extensions.....	42,392
Waterworks improvements, (including Alta Luna pumping station).....	44,821
Fire Department, new hose, track, engine house on beach, etc.....	7,605
Total.....	$181,525

Besides the above expenditures by the city, citizens expended $880,643 in the construction of new buildings and improvements; $45,000 in the building of sidewalks and $655,300 in improving facilities of industries, a total expenditure of $1,762,528. The sum of $119,619 of this amount was expended in beautifying the beach and making a pleasure resort not only for the citizens, but for the thousands of visitors who come annually to Galveston for health and enjoyment. Expenditures by the railroads and other corporations, the grade raising contractors and the government, not included in the above statement brings the total value of improvements made during the past year to $2,552,526.

THE CITY'S FINANCES.

As previously stated, the city of Galveston is again on a solid financial basis, and although the vast public improvements have made the bonded indebtedness appear large, all of this indebtedness is provided for in such a manner that in a comparatively short period of time, the rate of taxation will be materially lowered. The grade raising bonds are provided for by the State taxes which are returned to the city and thus the city is being raised to a level with the sea wall at the State expense. The other bonded indebtedness of the city is provided for by sinking funds which are added to year by year in sufficient amount to meet every obligation when due.

Following is the last financial statement rendered by the city showing the bonded indebtedness of the municipality:

Financial Condition of the City of Galveston on February 28, 1908.

And cash balances in the sinking funds	.....	68,907 45— 400,907 45
Net bonded debt	.....	$2,862,032 55

The assessed valuation of Galveston the past year was reduced at $22,797,065 against $1,244,653, an increase of $1,552,412 for 1906, including the property now occupied by the grade raising canal, the valuation would approach the highest mark ever made by the city before the disaster of 1900. Property values are increasing so rapidly and improvements are becoming so numerous that the assessed valuation of the city will be at the $30,000,000 mark within a very short time.

The above totals were made up as follows:

	1906.	1905.	Increase.
Ground	$12,082,193	$11,790,591	$291,602
Improvements	6,210,758	5,493,169	717,589
Personal	4,504,114	3,900,893	603,221
Total	$22,797,065	$21,244,653	$1,552,412
Poll	1,001	1,541
City tax	366,253	324,462	41,791
School	45,591	42,489	3,104

Following is the present rate of taxation:

	Ad valorem.	School.	Total.
City	.....	$1.60	$0.20 $1.80
County	.....		1.00
State	.....		.38
			$3.18

The above rate is an increase of 8 cents by the city, a decrease of 3 cents by the county and unchanged by the State, making an increase of 5 cents in the total, made necessary by the many public improvements. However, property holders are satisfied because they know that every dollar of taxation is spent in improving public facilities.

The total assessment for Galveston county this year is $22,203,390 against $22,069,360 for 1905. The total levy of taxes for 1906 is $310,299.90.

The following is an itemized list of taxable values for the year 1906 as compiled by the State and County Assessor:

THE PORT OF GALVESTON.

Backed by an immense territory in which there are millions of acres of fertile soil under cultivation, and millions more waiting the occupation of settlers; in which there are mines of gold, silver, copper, iron, coal and other minerals; in which there are oil fields of unknown capacity and virgin forests covering many miles in extent, the port of Galveston, the nearest deep water port to all this wealth, could not help but prosper, but besides these features, this vast territory is peopled with a progressive citizenship and Galveston with a citizenship unequalled in its energy which has made possible the rapid advancement of the port until it stands second only to the port of New York in the value of its foreign exports. There is a vast field for speculation regarding the future of the port when the territory tributary to it is settled with industrious citizens, but in this directory it is the object of the publishers to deal only with facts as they now stand and to leave to the imagination of their readers visions of what Galveston will be ten years hence.

During the fiscal year which ended June 30 Galveston advanced in rank to second place as an exporting port. It also stands first among the ports of the world in export cotton, breaking all records during the past season by handling more than 1,000,000 bales more cotton than any other port in the United States. The rank of the port in the exportation of cattle, provisions, lumber, cotton seed products, flour and grain has also been maintained and advanced in many instances, Galveston no longer being a single commodity and single season port as in times past. Business has expanded in all lines, and among the features can be mentioned the wonderful growth of the trade between Galveston and Mexican and Cuban ports.

As an index of the commercial expansion of the port of Galveston, the following statement of the records broken during the government year of 1905-06 is given:

Some of the Records for the Year 1905-06.
Value of foreign exports	$166,239,884

The record by	95,210,000
An increase of 15 per cent over previous record and 57.6 per cent in a period of ten years.

Total custom receipts	527,685.11
The record by	142,786.02
Total foreign tonnage entered and cleared, 3008 vessels; net tonnage	1,903,320
The record by 107 vessels and 225,075 tons net.

The year made records in the exportation of many other commodities and in the importation of sugar, coffee, seeds, fish and many other items of foreign production.

Although there is handled through the port of Galveston large consignments of nearly every product of the soil, mines and factories of the West, chief items of export. In these items the port excels as the following government statistics will show:

Receipts of cotton at the port of Galveston are much heavier than foreign exports, Galveston sending eastwise from 500,000 to 600,000 bales each season.

In the exportation of grain the port of Galveston ranks among the highest in the country and is now entering upon a season which is destined to eclipse all previous seasons in this line of trade.

In the handling of the immense commerce flowing through the port of Galveston it took 3008 ships of a total net tonnage of 1,903,320 tons in the foreign trade and 785 ships of a total net tonnage of 1,828,845 tons in the eastwise trade. The following tables of comparisons will not be without interest:

FACILITIES OF THE PORT.

The port of Galveston is probably the best equipped port for the rapid and economical handling of cargo in the United States, and for this reason visitors from other parts of the world are so impressed that they never fail to bestow many compliments upon the city and the citizens who have made the port what it is. Although there is room for the berthing of over 100 large vessels at the present time and covered wharves with a floor space of over 50 acres, there is yet room for additional wharves, enough to handle the commerce of the entire West for nearly a century.

This linear frontage represents terminal grounds, exclusive of that in use by the Wharf Company, of 5227 acres, according to the report of Capt. C. S. Riebe, formerly U. S. engineer in charge at this port, divided as follows:

At Bolivar	988 acres
From Pt. First to Tenth at	58 "
From Fifty-first to LaPorte bridge	685 "
From Virginia Point to Dullar Point	748 "
Around Pelican Island	2,088 "

These figures cover the area of unimproved land between harbor lines and mean low tide shore lines, Galveston harbor, and thus do not include 600 acres of Pelican island, above mean tide.

With one vessel lying abreast the pier the harbor frontage offers berth room for 529 vessels at one time, divided as follows:

- Galveston City Company, east, channel frontage 2200 feet, will accommodate nine vessels.
- Gulf, Colorado & Santa Fe railway, channel frontage 3200 feet, will accommodate 41 vessels.
- Galveston City Company, west, channel frontage 3300 feet, will accommodate 11 vessels.
- Huntington, or Southern Pacific, channel frontage 3800 feet, will accommodate 17 vessels.
- West end flats, channel frontage 10,000 feet, will accommodate 125 vessels.
- Galveston Wharf Company, channel frontage 12,200 feet, will accommodate 80 vessels.
- Pelican flats, channel frontage 16,000 feet, will accommodate 200 vessels.

The facilities in the way of trackage and yard room of the railroads terminating at Galveston are as follows: The Gulf, Colorado & Santa Fe has 25 3/10 miles of yard tracks, which can be increased 31 miles. The present car capacity of these tracks is 2800, and this can be increased 2700. This does not include the East End property, which we estimate can be made to supply a wharf frontage of 2 7/10 miles, with a possible trackage of 18 miles, and a capacity of 2000 cars. We do not mention the idea that there will be wharf frontage for 2 7/10 consecutive miles, but that the aggregate frontage afforded by slips, say, 400 feet wide and 1200 feet long, would be that much.

The Southern Pacific has a wharf yard with 42 miles of track laid, with a car capacity of 2200. They can increase this to 52 miles trackage and a possible yardage for 3660 cars. Their wharf frontage is 1 1/5 miles, with possible increase of 2 1/2 miles.

The Galveston, Houston & Henderson has trackage in their yard which will accommodate 2100 cars, with a receive trackage room for 1700 cars.

The Wharf Company has 2 1/2 miles of trackage, capable of accommodating 2500 cars. This can be increased 2 1/2 miles, which will carry with it an increase in their capacity of 3050. Their present wharf frontage is 4 1/10 miles, which may be increased 1 mile.

It is possible to still further increase the wharf frontage of this port 20 miles, which will include all that territory south of the Southern Pacific wharf to the bridge, a part of which has already been acquired by the Rock Island Railroad at a cost of $100,000, and Pelican Island. This property does not belong either to the railroads or to the Wharf Company, and we presume could be acquired by any other lines seeking entrance to this port, should they find that they can not be accommodated by the present facilities here afforded by the Wharf Company and others.

The Rock Island has already secured terminal grounds, and the St. Louis, Brownsville & Mexican road will be running trains into the city before the new year. With the railroad service already in operation, together with the lines contemplated, the port can not resist the impetus forward even if so inclined, and with the citizens co-operating as they do the city and port will take higher rank than it now has in the commercial world.

BANK CLEARINGS.

The introduction to this directory would not be complete without making some mention of the general prosperity of the citizens of Galveston.

When the raising of the grade was first started, the banks prepared to make generous loans to property holders to aid them in standing the expense of raising their houses, saving their trees and shrubbery and otherwise placing their property in condition after the filling. Very little of this money was called for, the citizens standing the extra expense without borrowing money from any source.

Business has generally been good with every person engaged while the demand for labor often exceeded the supply, and wages have been high.

As a general indication of the prosperity of the city we give below a statement of bank clearings for the fiscal year 1905-06, the increase over the previous year amounting to 15 per cent and the increase in 10 years amounting to 57.6 per cent.

Month—	1905-06.	1904-05.
July	$15,255,000	$20,292,000
August	46,711,000	34,173,000
September	51,805,000	48,118,000
October	61,830,000	71,291,000
November	67,768,000	60,318,000
December	65,021,000	54,793,000
January	53,306,000	45,220,000
February	46,819,000	35,031,000
March	49,043,000	42,830,000
April	48,915,000	40,861,000
May	49,475,000	42,006,000
June	49,320,000	39,561,000
Total	$638,740,000	$513,500,000
Increase	$95,240,000

This directory contains 19,161 names and shows a population of 35,474, an increase of 920 names and 1637 in population over the 1905 issue.

In conclusion we desire to thank the citizens for the many courtesies extended while engaged in obtaining the information for this edition, and the representative business and professional men of the city for the patronage they have given us to aid in producing this volume.

POSTOFFICES IN TEXAS.

From U. S. Official Postal Guide, J. B. Lyon Company, Printers, Albany, N. Y.

The postoffices in Texas are divided into four classes, the first being called presidential postoffices, for the reason that when the salary of a postmaster reaches the sum of one thousand dollars, the appointment by law vests in the president. In the fourth class is found nearly all the offices; the salary being less than one thousand dollars, the postmaster is appointed by the postmaster general. The first class contains all offices where the salary is at least three thousand dollars; the second class runs from two thousand to three thousand, and the third class from one thousand to two thousand dollars.

The population of the United States, as per census of 1900, was 76,295,220; of Texas, 3,048,710 (males, 1,578,900; females, 1,469,810. Total number of foreign-born, 179,357; total number of whites, 2,426,689; an increase in Texas of $13,187, or 36.4 per cent, since 1890.

The total number of postoffices in Texas Aug. 1, 1907, was 2902, of which 9 are first class; 38 are second class; 196 third class; 2440 fourth class; 219 presidential offices. The total number of money order offices was 1507, and 42 money order stations. There are 30 cities in the State which have free delivery service—Abilene, Austin, Beaumont, Bonham, Cleburne, Corsicana, Dallas, Denton, El Paso, Euless, Fort Worth, Gainesville, Galveston, Greenville, Hillsboro, Houston, Laredo, Marshall, McKinney, Palestine, Paris, San Antonio, Sherman, Temple, Terrell, Texarkana, Tyler, Waco, Waxahatchie and Weatherford.

Insert the key in the box, open the door, pull the hook on the inside door down one time and let go. In case of fire and you come to a glass front box break the glass, open the door and pull the hook. You will then hear the works in the box ticking. You will know then that the alarm has gone to the stations. Remain at the box so as to instruct the department as to the exact location of the fire upon its arrival.

Do not try to remove the key from the box, as it must be released by the chief or his assistant. Do not pull the box for a distant fire. Three times strokes, fire under control. Three times 9 9 9, general alarm.

The first part of the document discusses the importance of maintaining accurate records of all transactions. It emphasizes that every entry should be supported by a valid receipt or invoice. This ensures transparency and allows for easy verification of the data.

In addition, the document highlights the need for regular audits. By conducting periodic reviews, any discrepancies can be identified and corrected promptly. This proactive approach helps in maintaining the integrity of the financial information.

Furthermore, it is advised to use standardized accounting practices. This includes following established guidelines for recording and reporting. Consistency in these practices is crucial for providing reliable and comparable financial statements.

THOS. GOGGAN & BROS. SHEET MUSIC, PIANOS, ORGANS AND EVERYTHING IN THE MUSIC LINE. TWENTY-SECOND AND MARKET STREETS

1. The first part of the document discusses the importance of maintaining accurate records of all transactions. This is particularly crucial for businesses that operate in highly regulated industries. Proper record-keeping not only ensures compliance with various laws and regulations but also provides a clear audit trail for internal and external stakeholders.

2. In addition to maintaining accurate records, it is essential to implement robust internal controls. These controls help to prevent and detect errors and fraud, thereby safeguarding the organization's assets and ensuring the integrity of its financial statements.

3. Furthermore, regular audits are a key component of a sound financial management system. Audits provide an independent assessment of the organization's financial health and help to identify areas for improvement. This process is vital for maintaining the trust of investors, creditors, and other interested parties.

1. The first part of the document discusses the importance of maintaining accurate records of all transactions. This is essential for ensuring the integrity of the financial statements and for providing a clear audit trail.

2. The second part of the document outlines the various methods used to collect and analyze data. These methods include direct observation, interviews, and the use of statistical techniques. Each method has its own strengths and limitations, and it is important to choose the most appropriate one for the specific situation.

3. The third part of the document describes the process of data analysis. This involves identifying patterns, trends, and anomalies in the data. It also involves testing hypotheses and drawing conclusions based on the results.

4. The fourth part of the document discusses the importance of reporting the results of the analysis. This involves presenting the findings in a clear and concise manner, using appropriate visual aids such as charts and graphs. It also involves providing a detailed explanation of the methods used and the limitations of the study.

1. The first part of the document discusses the importance of maintaining accurate records for all transactions and activities. It emphasizes that proper record-keeping is essential for financial transparency and accountability, particularly in the context of public sector organizations. The text outlines various methods and tools used to collect, store, and analyze data, highlighting the need for consistency and reliability in the information gathered.

2. The second part of the document addresses the challenges associated with data management and security. It notes that as the volume of data increases, the risk of breaches and unauthorized access also grows. To mitigate these risks, the document suggests implementing robust security protocols, such as encryption and access controls, and conducting regular audits to ensure compliance with relevant regulations. Additionally, it stresses the importance of training staff on data security best practices to reduce human error.

3. The third part of the document focuses on the integration of data from different sources to provide a comprehensive view of organizational performance. It discusses the benefits of data integration, such as improved decision-making and operational efficiency. The text also touches upon the importance of data quality and the need for ongoing monitoring and maintenance of the data systems to ensure they remain up-to-date and accurate.

The first part of the document discusses the early years of the nation, from the time of the signing of the Declaration of Independence in 1776 to the end of the Revolutionary War in 1783. It covers the political and military challenges faced by the new government, as well as the economic and social changes that were taking place.

The second part of the document focuses on the period from 1783 to 1800, known as the "Era of Good Will." It describes the efforts of the new government to establish a stable and effective system of governance, and the role of key figures such as George Washington and James Madison.

The third part of the document covers the years from 1800 to 1820, a period of rapid growth and expansion. It discusses the westward movement of settlers, the development of the economy, and the increasing tensions between the North and the South over issues such as slavery and states' rights.

The fourth part of the document deals with the years from 1820 to 1850, a time of significant political and social change. It examines the rise of the Whig and Democratic parties, the growing influence of the press, and the increasing polarization of the nation over the issue of slavery.

The fifth part of the document covers the years from 1850 to 1860, a period of intense conflict and crisis. It describes the events leading up to the Civil War, including the passage of the Fugitive Slave Act and the secession of the Southern states.

The sixth part of the document focuses on the years from 1860 to 1870, the Reconstruction period. It discusses the challenges of rebuilding the South, the role of the Freedmen's Bureau, and the efforts to establish a new constitutional order.

The seventh part of the document covers the years from 1870 to 1890, a period of rapid industrialization and westward expansion. It examines the growth of the economy, the development of the railroad, and the increasing influence of big business.

The eighth part of the document deals with the years from 1890 to 1900, a time of significant political and social change. It discusses the rise of the Progressive movement, the increasing role of the federal government, and the growing tensions between the North and the South.

the model. The model was run with a horizontal resolution of  $1.25^\circ$  and a vertical resolution of 25 vertical levels. The model was run for 10 yr, with the first 5 yr discarded as spin-up time.

The model was run with a fixed sea surface temperature (SST) field, which was obtained from the National Oceanographic and Atmospheric Administration (NOAA) Ocean Reanalysis Project (Reyer et al. 2005). The SST field was interpolated to the model grid and used as a boundary condition for the ocean. The SST field was fixed in time and space, and the model was run with a fixed SST field.

1. The first part of the document discusses the importance of maintaining accurate records of all transactions. It emphasizes that proper record-keeping is essential for the integrity of the financial system and for the ability to detect and prevent fraud.

2. The second part of the document outlines the specific requirements for record-keeping, including the need to maintain original documents and to keep copies of all records for a minimum of seven years. It also discusses the importance of ensuring that records are accessible and retrievable at all times.

3. The third part of the document discusses the role of the auditor in verifying the accuracy of the records. It emphasizes that the auditor must exercise due diligence and must be satisfied that the records are complete and accurate before issuing an audit opinion.

4. The fourth part of the document discusses the consequences of non-compliance with the record-keeping requirements. It states that failure to maintain accurate records can result in the disallowance of tax deductions and penalties, and it can also lead to the suspension or revocation of the company's license to operate.

5. The fifth part of the document discusses the importance of training and education for all employees involved in the record-keeping process. It emphasizes that all employees must be aware of their responsibilities and must receive adequate training to ensure that records are maintained accurately and consistently.

6. The sixth part of the document discusses the importance of regular audits and reviews of the record-keeping system. It states that the company should conduct internal audits and reviews on a regular basis to identify any weaknesses or areas for improvement in the record-keeping process.

7. The seventh part of the document discusses the importance of maintaining the confidentiality of the records. It states that all records must be kept secure and that access to the records must be restricted to authorized personnel only.

8. The eighth part of the document discusses the importance of maintaining the integrity of the records. It states that all records must be kept in their original form and that any changes or alterations must be properly documented and justified.
